1.		get rid of this glossary altogether. It has no business being presented with offers. The public will think we are stupid. It reminds me of the movie Legally Blond, where the judge is asking Ms Blond why she is giving a vocabulary lesson in the court room!
2.		Line 58: delete extra period mark
3.		Add an 'okina in "Hawaii" in the title below "To the ____ dated ____" to keep the spelling consistent throughout the form.
4.		To be honest I was taught to use this form only on deals under $25,000. I never did one that low price until 24 years in business and the listing agent laughed at me. "no one uses that here". So I never use it and I rarely receive on offers.
5.		I personally don't know why we still have this form, but... No argument with it for what it is.
6.		Very helpful!
7.		It's good.
8.		Fine.
9.		Great!
